Party Liable for the Tax (Taxpayer)

The party liable for airport charges is the operator (holder) of the aircraft. If the operator is unknown, the owner of the aircraft is liable instead. Multiple operators of an aircraft are jointly and severally liable. The party liable for the fuel tax is the company authorized on the airport premises to dispense aviation fuel.

Home based aircraft

The 'home base aircraft' discount applies to aircraft covered by an annual hangar agreement, as well as to aircraft operated by companies based at the airport.
